National President's Message

“ We are co-workers for God’s ministry ”

1 Cor. 3:9

Bro Peter Desmond Wee

The conditions in the church of Corinth are akin to the present conditions of our ministry in that the Apostle Paul faces many issues with the church.

The members there were divided along loyalty lines regarding their favourite leaders & one of them is a great orator named Apollos.

Paul explains in First Corinthians how the church people have a different relationship with the Lord than their relationship with Apollos. Leaders of the church weren't political partisans who tried to bully their opponents as though it were a political party.

The church or this ministry is a field of many workers who collaborate to produce a harvest. Paul said that churches are like buildings where the walls stand together, reinforced by co-workers for all to look to God and not to man to succeed and reach others for the Kingdom. We all, whether old or new leaders, are just co-labourers for God's kingdom work.

Fellow Workers with God:

Astonishingly, we are not mere spectators in God's grand plan. Instead, we are co-labourers alongside Him. Imagine it: the Creator of the universe invites us to participate in His work! We are part of His divine team, entrusted with tasks that contribute to His eternal purposes.

God's Field:

We are like a fertile field that God cultivates. Just as a farmer sows seeds, God plants His truth, love, and grace in our hearts. Our lives become the soil where His Word takes root. As we yield to His cultivation, we bear fruit—10-fold, 50-fold, 100-fold—for His glory.

God's Building:

We are not just a field; we as His people are also a holy building. God constructs His spiritual dwelling place within us. Each believer is like a living stone, carefully placed in His temple. Through His grace, He shapes us into the likeness of Christ. Our transformation is His masterpiece.

Responsibility and Grace:

Our role as fellow workers isn't based on our merit but on God's grace. He empowers us through the indwelling Holy Spirit. We labor, sow, water, and pray—all trusting in the Lord of the Harvest. As we serve, He fashions us and uses us for His greater glory.

A Work in Progress:

We are both workers and works in progress. God breaks up the fallow ground in our hearts, removing thorns of self-interest and self-dependence. He sows seeds of love, grace and humility. We submit to His leading, becoming more like Christ each day.

*“For we are God’s fellow workers.
You are God’s field, God’s building.”
1 Cor. 3: 9*

We must therefore love and honour one another and work together. So, why don't we? Ego! We think we can do everything ourselves - but that's not the reality! There are no supermen or superwomen. So, the question is, how soon are you going to realise you can't do everything on your own?

Philanthropist Andrew Carnegie declared:

'It marks a big step in your development when you come to realise that other people can help you do a better job than you could do alone.'

Speaker:
Pr. Billy

Pr. Billy was born in a Christian family, whose father is a well known leader (Reverend) in Sarawak for his work in evangelism and church planting. He defied his father and left home at a very young age and soon involved in criminal activities with his company of bad friends. Pr. Billy had done many immoral and sinful things in his life until God taught him a hard lesson, witnessing death in front of his eyes. He repented and was given a second lease of life as God called him to be His servant to serve Him.

God began shaping him by sending him to seminaries (got his Bachelor's & Master's degrees) and sent people to help him through those journeys. He met his wife in the seminary but due to his past sinful lifestyle he encountered health issues. Doctors told him of his inability to conceive a child but God, out of His grace and mercy, had gifted him a beautiful daughter. God sent him to serve in a declining church but within a few years, it has become a role model to many other churches. God allows Pr. Billy to pursue his doctorate degree as he continues to walk by faith to complete the course. He now preaches and shares his testimonies locally and abroad. All glory and praise be unto Him!
